Meet Zeus the lemur, a busy dad of four sets of twins 来认识四对双胞胎幼崽的狐猴爸爸"宙斯"

文字稿

This is Zeus the lemur, a busy dad of eight newborn babies.

狐猴"宙斯"是个忙碌的爸爸，它的八只狐猴宝宝刚刚降生。

The rare ring-tailed lemur has fathered four sets of twins with four different partners.

这只稀有的环尾狐猴与四只母狐猴产下了四对双胞胎。

And now the twins have become the new stars at Wellington Zoo in New Zealand.

现在，这四对双胞胎已经成为新西兰惠灵顿动物园的新明星。

"It's a first. We're all in shock, to be honest. It means that this boy here, this is Zeus, the father, has done his job. And to be honest, he has a tough job because he only has a 24 to 36 hour window while they're in that season. And they only breed once a year. So, he got around very well."

"这是前所未有的。老实说，我们都很震惊。新生狐猴的数量之多意味着宙斯完成了它做爸爸的愿望。说实话，它也很难，因为繁殖期的窗口只有 24 到 36 小时。而且环尾狐猴每年只繁殖一次。所以他做得非常好。"

The twins were born in August and September. Ring-tailed lemurs, endemic to Madagascar, are classified as an endangered species.

这四对双胞胎狐猴生于八月和九月。环尾狐猴，马达加斯加特有的品种，已被列为濒危物种。
